

EVENT FACT SHEET

EVENT:

Wine & Spirits Wholesalers of America (WSWA) in partnership with Responsibility.org's Foundation for Advancing Alcohol Education (FAAE) will host the inaugural Champions of Responsibility Awards Dinner on Tuesday, October 15 from 6:00 pm to 9:00 pm at The Ritz-Carlton, Washington, DC. The dinner is expected to bring together more than 500 people and will include a reception, dinner, and award presentations recognizing honorees for their work to keep alcohol out of kids' hands and/or who encourage kids to say "no" to underage drinking.

Proceeds from ticket sales and sponsorships will go to Responsibility.org's Foundation for Advancing Alcohol Education and will be used to keep kids safe and alcohol-free in communities across the country.

ABOUT:

The Foundation for Advancing Alcohol Education (FAAE) is a 501(c)(3) organization created to further the leadership of Responsibility.org in the classroom through teachers and education communities. FAAE brings experts together to develop and disseminate information and public awareness communications designed to educate adults and kids about alcohol responsibility and the dangers and negative consequences of underage drinking.

Responsibility.org has taken its educational programming, such as Ask, Listen, Learn: Kids and Alcohol Don't Mix to six countries, including the U.S. and Canada, and has reached more than 140 million teachers, students and parents since its inception in 2004.

The Foundation for Advancing Alcohol Education has the highest commitment to further increase conversations about the dangers of underage drinking, with the hopes that it continues to lower the number of kids that drink underage.
